

Ordering

Open Text Web Solutions offers a well documented open API (Application Programmers Interface) to develop additional functionality. Utilize the number of different tools and extensions to enhance the functionality of the core system, partially created and designed by Open Text partners. The RedDot Query Language (RQL) offers a standard method to add to the main functionality of your Content Management project.